

For the beauty of the world, for the whole of creation and our part in it, let us give thanks. As we gather together for our Parish Communion today we will be reflecting on the hugeness of God, Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. As we hold our hopes and anxieties for the world in the presence of God, let us be confident that we are heard.

Let us pray for wisdom that together with others of good will, humankind will have the courage to act wisely and well in the face of poverty, climate change, loss and destruction. As we suffer the effects of climate change all over the world we pray that experts and ordinary people can understand both the threat and the opportunity that careful change can bring to our world and the whole of creation.

We pray for those who are sick and suffering and those who have asked for our prayers naming before you: Tessa, Nicky, Nick, George, Sally, Doreen, Joy, Shirley, Margaret, Chris, Paul, Peter, Hannah, Megan, Richard, Carol, Eddie, Phil, Chris, Joanne, Margaret, Will, Adam, Noah, Marcella, Wendy, Chris and Kevin. May they know your healing love and presence.

We welcome our baptism family who are here today. We pray for parents Aime and Jack and for their family and friends. We pray for Dolcie-May, Hunter-Grey and Maddie-Ann who will be baptised this morning. We wish them every blessing as they begin their Christian journeys.
